ABOUT THE EVENT

With immense excitement, we extend an invitation to neonatologists, pediatricians, neonatal nurses, clinical scientists, public health experts, and all professionals dedicated to the well-being of infants to the Neonatal World Conference (Neo 2026) to be organized between 21–23 August, 2026, in Dubai. This is the world's leading event, providing a common platform for sharing pioneering advancements, clinical dilemmas, and revolutionary innovations in neonatal and perinatal medicine.

Neo 2026 aims to advance survival, development, and health in neonates by applying the latest scientific evidence, critical care principles, and health system integration. The conference will discuss a broad spectrum of conditions, such as complications of preterm birth, neonatal nutrition, management of respiratory distress, infection prevention, congenital anomalies, and neurodevelopmental support early in life.

The conference will include keynote lectures from prominent experts, plenary sessions, oral and poster presentations, expert discussions, and skills workshops. New topics, such as neonatal diagnostics using artificial intelligence, point-of-care ultrasound, precision medicine in the NICU, and family-integrated neonatal care, will also receive special focus. A priority will be given to innovations in low-resource environments and the contribution of community-based interventions to global enhanced neonatal survival.

Participants will be able to foster substantive dialogue, deepen global partnerships, and acquire actionable information that can be applied immediately to practice, policy, and research. From clinical advances to public health policy, NWC 2026 aims to develop capacity and promote equity-oriented methods to bridge the gaps in neonatal outcomes worldwide.

We extend a warm and sincere invitation to you to be part of this crucial and uplifting conference. Whether through presenting your research, contributing to knowledge sharing, or networking with your peers, your presence will play a vital role in shaping the future of neonatal healthcare and leave an indelible impact on newborn lives globally.
