PRECISION GLOBAL CONFERENCES

Precision Global Conferences (PGC) is dedicated to advancing the frontiers of knowledge by presenting the most cutting-edge research across diverse disciplines, particularly within the medical and biological sciences. PGC serves as a platform for international collaboration, bringing together researchers, clinicians, industry participants, and thought leaders to exchange ideas, foster partnerships, and accelerate scientific progress.

PGC conferences are designed not only as scientific assemblies but as strategic engagement platforms where organizations can integrate their brand identity into a global network of academic and industry professionals. By aligning with PGC, sponsors and exhibitors have the opportunity to showcase their products, technologies, and molecules information to a highly influential audience comprising researchers, practitioners/physicians, policy makers, and media representatives.

Through its sponsorship and exhibition programs, PGC enables companies to:

- Enhance brand visibility through association with internationally recognized scientific gatherings.
- Engage directly with key influencers, including scientists, clinicians, innovators, and members of the global press.
- Gain objective third-party recognition by supporting credible and independent scientific forums.

Platinum Sponsor: USD 8500

- A platinum sponsor typically receives five complimentary event registrations. Additionally, the sponsor will get a special chance to be listed on the website and have their logo printed on banner and event materials.
- A platinum sponsor also receives a variety of additional benefits, some of which include printed advertisements on the final programme and an endearing acknowledgement in the inaugural address.
- In addition to the advertising benefits, the sponsor is also entitled to a presentation opportunity, one exhibition table, and on-site signpost recognition.
- In addition to the opportunity to lead a scientific session and a full-page advertisement on the back cover page of the abstracts book, sponsors can even join the organising committee.
- Additionally, the sponsor's firm will be mentioned in the press release, and there will be the usual lunch and tea/coffee breaks.

Gold Sponsor: USD 6500

- Gold sponsors are eligible for four free session registrations as well as a listing on the session website.
- A logo listing for use on session brochures and banners, a warm introduction and shout-out during the opening speech, and printed advertisements on the final programme are all included in the official benefits.
- Then they will have the opportunity to deliver a spectacular presentation about their most recent works, have one exhibition table, and be acknowledged on the site's signage.
- The sponsor representative may also participate in the scheduling of a scientific event as a member of the organising committee, which could result in a press release that mentions the sponsor's company and a lengthy advertisement on the inside front cover of the abstract book.

Silver sponsor: USD 4500

In addition to being listed on the session website and having their logo displayed on the meeting booklet and banner, silver sponsors are also entitled to three free registrations. A heartfelt acknowledgement in the commencement address. When it comes to the advertising, the sponsor also receives the chance to have their name printed on the final event, the chance to give a presentation, one exhibition booth, on-site signage recognition, the chance to lead a scientific session, the chance to serve as an organising committee member, and a full-page ad on the inside back cover page of the abstract book.

Exhibitor: USD 3499

An exhibitor has the option to sign up for two complimentary sessions, receive a website listing, and have their logo included on the event banner and brochures. Additionally, the sponsor will receive a mention in the inauguration speech, advertising during the closing ceremony, the chance to present, and a chance to display a booth or table.
