Cardiovascular Care: Innovation and Equity on a Global Scale"*

ABOUT THE EVENT

The World Cardiology Conference 2026 marks the beginning of an exciting new global series focused on advancing the science and clinical practice of cardiovascular medicine. Set to be held on 23-25, August in Dubai and broadcast virtually for global access, WCC 2026 is designed as a dynamic, hybrid platform that brings together professionals from all disciplines within cardiology.

Cardiovascular diseases remain the leading cause of death globally, accounting for nearly 18 million lives each year. As the burden continues to grow, the importance of collaborative action and knowledge-sharing has never been more urgent. In a world where cardiovascular disease continues to be the leading cause of death, WCC 2026 responds to the urgent need for shared learning and cross-disciplinary dialogue. This international conference will spotlight the most recent advancements, research findings, and innovative technologies that are shaping the future of heart health.

We extend our sincere appreciation to all cardiovascular specialists, healthcare teams, and medical researchers whose unwavering dedication has saved countless lives. The advancements in diagnostics, surgical procedures, imaging, and rehabilitation have significantly elevated standards of heart care—and WCC 2026 will be a celebration of these accomplishments while setting the stage for what's next.

Under the theme "Shaping the Future of Cardiovascular Care: Innovation and Equity on a Global Scale", WCC 2026 will feature a comprehensive scientific program with keynote talks, clinical case studies, interactive sessions, panel discussions, and abstract presentations by global experts and emerging voices in the field.

Whether you are a cardiologist, cardiac surgeon, researcher, student, policymaker, or industry professional—this conference is tailored to fuel learning, foster networking, and drive collaboration across borders.
